

Mer-Poodle

Inhabiting coastlines the world over, mer-poodles have curly fur that is resistant to algae.

They live close to beaches and coves where they spend their days hunting for fish, as well as locating sunken items and bringing them to shore.

They are incredibly friendly to humans passing by their shores.

Inspired by the Poodle dog breed + the Mermaid of various European mythologies